

ORANGE COUNTY

INFORMATION AND REFERRAL GUIDE 2005

Services Supporting the People of Orange County, North Carolina

In Orange County, citizens come first.

The “Information and Services Referral Guide” is designed to improve public awareness of the multitude of agencies, non-profits, and organizations supporting Orange County residents. This is a revival of the “Orange Book” created around 10 years ago to provide citizens with a comprehensive listing of agencies supporting human services.

The diversity of the county's residents means that Orange County must meet many different needs. County departments and agencies, along with numerous nonprofits, work hard not only to meet those varied and changing needs, but also to set and maintain standards of service excellence.

Not only do the services and agencies referred to in the Orange Book provide support in specific areas, many also offer volunteer opportunities for individuals who wish to have a positive impact on the lives of others.

Orange County is a special place to live, work and play. The diversity of the people and services makes the county interesting and lively. Support organizations display a warmth and genuine friendliness that quickly turns neighbors into friends.

The citizens and government of Orange County, working together, have built a strong and vital community that is serving today's needs while planning for the challenges and opportunities of tomorrow.

We hope this reference guide will help improve your quality of life in Orange County.

“How to Use This Information and Referral Guide”

This guide was developed through the joint efforts of Orange County Government, Triangle United Way 2-1-1, the listed human services agencies, staff members, and dedicated County Commissioners.

This guide includes a wide range of available community resources provided by public and non-profit human services organizations for Orange County citizens.

The following are the various ways to use this guide:

- 1) The “Agency Table of Contents” lists agencies alphabetically with the programs they offer.
- 2) The “Program Table of Contents” lists these programs alphabetically by program name.
- 3) The “Program Description” lists the program name, the agency providing the program, contact information, any applicable fees, and a brief description of the program.
- 4) The “Subject/Topical Index” lists programs by area of the content under a given topic. The page number after each name indicates where to look for full information on what the agency offers.

Inclusion of an agency does not necessarily imply endorsement; nor does exclusion imply withheld endorsement.

If you are unable to locate the service/program you are seeking, you may contact the Board of Commissioners’ office at (919) 245-2130 or the Director of Community Services at (919) 245-2302.

Please contact the Clerk to the Board of Commissioners at (919) 245-2130 if you have any questions or concerns.

Family Support Network of North Carolina promotes and provides support for families with children who have special needs. Services include local family support network programs located across the state. These community-based family support organizations are housed in local or regional hospitals, regional Children's Developmental Services Agencies (CDSAs) local Arcs, and local Smart Start Partnerships. Family support activities include parent-to-parent matching, whereby parents with concerns about their child and/or family can talk with other parents with similar experiences and concerns. Support parents have participated in a training program to prepare them to provide appropriate guidance and support. Local programs offer support groups and workshops for families and service providers, and they make presentations to increase public awareness of disability-related issues. The Central Directory of Resources is a free resource for family members and service providers. Callers can obtain information about specific disabilities and the resources and organizations that serve children and families. Through our toll-free phone line (800-852-0042) information and referral sources are available to family members, service providers, students, and others across the state. The Central Directory of Resources has a Spanish-speaking Resource Specialist and some printed information is available in Spanish. All of these services are offered without charge.

In partnership with committed adults, girls develop strong values, social conscience, and increased self-esteem. Girls build skills for success in the real world while growing courageous and strong. The events, programs, and meetings are completely girl driven, because our program is by girls, for girls. While one Troop may be learning about home improvement, another is learning about Chapel Hill, and another is learning about family dynamics. In Orange County alone, there are over 70 Troops. They have diverse meeting days, times, and locations. Each girl in Orange County is sure to find a Troop that suits her needs, peaks her interests, and sees to it that she enjoys herself. We are dedicated to serving every girl.

The mission of the ERCD is to "oversee, implement, and coordinate County goals for environmental protection and resource conservation." In previous years, the Board of County Commissioners adopted goals related to environmental protection and conservation of natural resources. These goals are related to groundwater protection, historic preservation, watershed protection, farmland preservation, parks and planning preservation of open space. These issues were being addressed by a wide array of citizen advisory boards, committees, county departments, and state and federal agencies. The ERCD was created to provide a single, high profile entity to coordinate these broad goals at the local level. The ERCD is the 'central office' for all environmental and resource preservation initiatives set forth by the County Commissioners and the citizens of Orange County.

Healthy Carolinians is a community-based partnership working to improve the health of Orange County residents. It is based on the concept that community members are the most qualified to effectively prioritize the health and safety problems in their community and to plan and execute creative solutions to these problems. It brings together community members, leaders and organizations to improve the health and well being of all community residents. Committees work to provide plans to guide and assist Orange County in planning and implementing health care strategies to promote healthy lifestyles, improve health status and prevent premature death and injury for all residents in the county regardless of age, race, income or education. Current focus areas are adult health promotion, adolescent mental health, and child abuse and domestic violence prevention.

Public Works is organized into three divisions: Buildings and Grounds (including Administration and Custodial Services), Motor Pool, and Sanitation.

The Buildings and Grounds Division maintains 34 County-owned and 11 leased properties, including grounds, buildings, building equipment and state road sign maintenance. In addition the Buildings and Grounds staff provides the following services:

- Support services such as departmental moves, deliveries, pest control
- Administering and implementing renovations, either in house or contract
- Managing utilities services for County buildings
- Inclement weather services for County buildings and parking lots

The Sanitation Division provides a variety of solid waste management services to Orange County residents, government offices and schools. Services include operation of six solid waste convenience centers for Orange County residents only and solid waste collection services. At convenience centers, residents may deposit their household waste, bulky materials, and recyclables. Bulky waste loads are restricted to 1/2 pickup load per weekday or per weekend period. Landfill permits are issued at no charge to residents with multiple or larger loads. No household hazardous waste materials are accepted; such materials must be disposed of at the landfill through the County's household hazardous waste program. Reuse of items in good condition is available through the salvage-shed program at four of the centers.

The Motor Pool maintains a fleet of more than 275 vehicles including automobiles, vans, ambulances, Sheriff's Department vehicles, trucks, buses, sanitation trucks and various types of special service vehicles. The Staff also maintains over 100 pieces of auxiliary equipment. The Motor Pool Division maintains and operates a centralized fuel system for County-owned vehicles, motorized equipment, outside agencies, and Town of Hillsborough vehicles.

The Solid Waste Management Department operates the Orange County Landfill and provides a variety of recycling services through its Orange Community Recycling Program. Since its inception, the landfill has operated as an enterprise fund, using revenues from landfill fees rather than taxes to support itself and the recycling operation. Starting in 2004, a tiered fee based on recycling services available will be changed to owners of all habitable, improved properties in Orange County.

Annually, approximately 57,000 tons of mixed solid waste and 17,000 tons of construction and demolition waste generated in Orange County are buried at the landfill. Another 17,000 tons of brush, clean wood, scrap metal, tires, mobile homes, and white goods are also managed and recycled there. Toxics are diverted from landfill disposal through the household hazardous waste and electronics collection programs located at the Orange County Landfill.

Orange County Community Recycling Programs recycled approximately 14,000 tons of materials in the last fiscal year.

The strength of our program is the experience, expertise, and dedication of our staff. Our teachers create a caring and nurturing atmosphere that fosters each child's creativity and positive self-image. The majority of our programs are licensed through the NC Department of Public Instruction. Before the 2006 school year all of our program sites will be licensed by the N. C. Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Child Development. We have a staff to student ratio of 1:18. We provide developmentally appropriate programs which include computer skills, arts and crafts, homework support, reading, and sports. We also provide a nutritious afternoon snack daily.

Our centers value people: the children in our care, their parents, and our employees. We continually work to earn the trust placed in us. We strive each day to provide the best school-age educational services possible.

Fees: $15.00 registration fee per child
$35.00 for 1 child $65.00 for 2 children $95.00 for 3 children
Occasional care: $10.00 per day
